Calculate Your Net Worth on the Flesh Market!*

Why Egg Donation?

Thanks to the new bio- and repro- technologies, altruism is now practical! Complete this easy checklist to estimate how much you can benefit while giving the gift of life.

Your Net Worth on the Flesh Market!

First, check each box that corresponds to your genotype (genetic makeup) or phenotype (physical expression of your genotype + environmental influences). Then, add up the dollar amounts in each column that you have checked, to determine Your Net Worth on the Flesh Market! NOTE: If your genotype or phenotype corresponds to any of the qualities in Part 1 you are a Non-Reproductive Donor. You may still be eligible to 'give the gift of life' by selling your reproductive organs, or selling your other bodily organs to science after brain death! Even more exciting, if you are a resident of a third world country, you are eligible while living to sell the extra member of any of your paired organs! See the list in Part 3 for Market Values of other common flesh commodities in the global medical industry.

1) Non-Reproductive Donor Category (check any that apply.)

Give the Gift of Life: help yourself and others by taking advantage of the wonders of Assisted Reproductive Technologies!

FIND OUT HOW IT WORKS!
*Value is estimated value only and is non-binding on Express Choice, TAGC, or their subsidiaries.
While the gametes of homosexuals are not in high demand on the flesh commodities market, non-traditional couples can still benefit from the new Assisted Reproductive Technologies as consumers! See TAGC's main site for more information!
If you are a resident of a third world nation, you are encouraged to undergo sterilization by donating your eggs and/or uterus to a first world woman unable to conceive, in exchange for Food Aid or right to cultivate land. Or you may wish to donate your eggs for use in the exclusive fertility-inducing product Human Caviar(TM).
*COMING SOON: FUTURES MARKET IN CADAVERIC ORGANS! The American Medical Association is now considering Advance Contracts offered to the general public, which would provide a substantial sum ($5,000 has been suggested) to the deceased person's designee! LEARN MORE
